OFFICEI No. 15 Quincy Street.

MONDAY, SEPT. 29, 1873.

A Few Facts.

The New York Bulletin, which is good financial authority, calls on the public to recover their reason and look at the financial situation as it actually exists. It shows that with the exception of an undue expansion in the railroad interest, or which the panic has already done its worst, the crisis has found everything sound. Of the important bank failures that have occurred, not one firm or institution has proved insolvent. The Union Company, allowing for the defalcation, will be abmushing and in liquidate its deposits. The National Trust Company shows a good surplus of $1,100,000. Fisk & Hatch have a mag-nificent surplus over their liabilities, and can resume immediately on the recovery ce. Jay Cooke & Co., thou ed by advances to the Pacific, have large wealth, and claim that they can pay everything in full even if their Northern Pacific assets have to be thrown overboard. Henry Clews & Co. showed remarkable strength suspending until they had paid sets will far more than provide for their remaining liabilities. The Bank of the Commonwealth will be able to pay every dollar to its depositors, and return to its stockholders most of their invest Howes & Macy suspended they could afford to suspend to allow their securities to be forced on the market to the injury their depositors. They are well known on as the public recover their sens ount of over twenty-two million of the fact that they were abun dantly able to pay every dollar of indebt-edness. There has not been one banking ercial failure caused by insolven The worst panic known for sixte ed the banking and mercantil nterests in the severest manner, and he proved their exceptionally strong condised, but beyond that no dam bankers to confront the senseless raid &c. This man with an inflexible resolution to stand by attor ever in ch other to the last extremity. It ask or to compel payments, to consider whether this timid self-protection is at all necessary, and whether by encouraging ey are not inviting needless ruin The question is proper, and is being practically answered in this city, as it most others in the west, by just such action for the common support as the Bulle

DEATH OF HENRY W. DRAKELEY.—Mr. HENRY W. DRAKELEY, of the firm of Drakeley & Fenton, produce and commision merchants of Baltimore, - a gentle well known in this business comp nity,—died at Cottage Grove, twelve miles from Madison, Wis., Friday morning last. inst a chair broke under him and he re rendered him partially insensible for sor He complained considerably of riding about meanwhile. The Saturda before his death he was compelled to g to bed; Monday he fell into a deep stupo Wednesday he was given up by his phys cians; Thursday night at midnight h oke with his mind clear, but as noted Mr. DRAKELEY was the principal owne we blieve of the Washington Iron Works in the southern part of this city. H established the house of Drakele & Fenton thirty-seven years ago, an inesa lite has been cotemporaneou with the history of Baltimore in the p riod which has witnessed its greatest ex anaion and prosperity. He was in all repects a man who earned and described esteem in which he was held.

SATURDAY'S Journal of Commerce notes as the hopeful feature of the present aspect of affairs, the steady demand for the petter class of securities from investors who are tempted by the great decline in rates to take them from the market. Large amounts, much greater than commonly supposed, have been absorbed i this way during the past few days, and the process is still going on, the purchases being altogether at private sale.

WELLSBURG appears to be suffering just now from an irruption of persons looking out a site for a rolling mill.

MR. JAMES CUNNINGHAM has purchas ed the interest of Mr. W. M. Evans in the Moundsville Reporter and takes the

ence of the present monetar y disturbance on industrial and mercantile trade. For ence of the present monetar y disturbance on industrial and mercantile trade. For the banks have taken such measures as to fortify themselves against any very great disaster, at least, as matters now atand. In Chicago, in Charleston, in Richmond and in several other large cities some temporary check has manifestly been given to large commercial operations. This fact has sometimes been inducrently reported as indicating a general paralysis of business in such quarters. But, from what we can ascertain, in most places what has occurred has been little more than the natural pame which a suddes monetary crists creates. In other words, it is just what occurred here in the three closing days of the past week. General business seemed to halt a moment, half in curiosity, half in anxiety, to observe the crisis in banking and speculative circles. Bif this week we have seen industrial and mercantile trade in its usual tide of settivity and prosperity. The cities at the west and at the south, which were struck a little later by the wave of financial distress, seems to have had the same experience. In short, any lull in general business is clearly temporary everywhere. So far as the west and south are concerned, the crops must be moved, and this year they are fortunately very abundant, with ample foreign market as well as home demand.—Philadelphia Record.

REMARKABLE CHEESE.—A Cincinnat

REMARKABLE

Gazette correspondence from the Harz

Mountain, Germany, says:

At every hotel, at every restaurant, on every table you will find Harz cheese;
you will see great shelves of it inin out to dry, or moult or decay—it don't matter
much what it does, the worse it is spoiled
the better it is; the further you can seem the perfume, the more delicate is the flavor. When I assure those persons who have ever smelled Limburg cheese that it is the perfume of a thousand flowers com-

like one would imagine a clot of sour milk to taste, that been left in the sun antil il had been baked hard and dry and yellow. But the tavorite cheese that is served with bread and butter after dinner resembles a great square of badly made soup, kept in a damp cellar until it is moldy and alimy, and it smells like the distilled essence of a thousand glue shops and soap factories combined. Curiosity promuted me once to taste it it that the and soal lactories common control of the prompted me once to taste it; it had the effect of a most excellent dinner. I did not want anything to eat for some time afterward; besides, I have suffered ever since with a feeling of remorse, that lever should have made a way, face over the state of the property of the state of the same of the sam a spoonfull of castor oil or any other little delicacy of the allopathic practice.

The Wellsburg Herald says "a Company of practical fron workers" have proposed to the Wellsburg and Brooke county public that if $20,000 stock in a $60,000 concern is raised or guaranteed by the time it is wanted, they will at once invest $40,000 in the buildings and machinery for an iron mill and go to work. This $40,000 they estimate will be required to get ready for work, the $20,000 is for working capital, and as security for this latter, they propose to give a deed of trust on the real estate, machinery, &c.
